

Dear [insert name]

I am requesting approval to attend the NEDAS Boston Symposium taking place on Tuesday, July 14, 2020. NEDAS, formerly the Northeast DAS and Small Cell Association, is a grassroots industry association that sits at the intersection of the wireline and wireless infrastructure where interconnectivity is key to enabling the connected world. The group has been hosting events and meetings since 2010.

NEDAS events bring together a wide range of in-building wireless specialists, HetNet professionals, architects, carriers, consultants, contractors, infrastructure engineers, product managers, suppliers municipality professionals and more. NEDAS Symposiums consistently include key decision-makers and all end-users attend free. Their Advisory Council includes individuals from companies such as Advantage Engineers, Boingo, ExteNet Systems, Freddie Mac, Microsoft, Savills, ZenFi Networks and more.

Why am I interested in attending the NEDAS Boston Symposium?

The event offers the opportunity to:

- Meet new prospects and vetted end-users
- Educate attendees on our business solutions and products
- Grow our organization's network in a rapidly growing market
- Learn about the latest technology and solutions impacting the converged wireline and wireless space

When I return from the NEDAS Boston Symposium, I will be able to share the latest insights about in-building technology solutions such as DAS and small cells deployments, network and fiber deployments for front haul and backhaul capabilities, the latest solutions for the edge, public safety updates and cutting-edge innovations with the rest of our organization. The Boston Symposium will also be an exceptional opportunity to make face-to-face connections with leading suppliers and service providers as well as other end-users.

Here is a complete breakdown of the costs:

Regular rate: $299 (available until June 15, 2020)

Late rate: $349 (available until July 13, 2020)

Onsite registration: $349 (available onsite July 14, 2020)

*Fees & taxes not included

As you can see, the sooner we make our decision about our company's participation, the more cost-effective it will be.

Complete information on the NEDAS Boston Symposium is available at www.nedas.com.

Thank you for your consideration,
